Brand Overview: For as long as there has been Jones Soda, people have been asking for a Diet Jones. Our concern was that we didnt want any Jones Soda to have that awful aftertaste that "comes" with Diet Soda. So we worked hard to find a new zero-calorie sweetener. At Jones, we want you to feel good and recycle the bottles. Trim down with the little guy....create some change.

Sugar Free Black Cherry Soda

Category: Diet; Packaging: 12 fl oz (355ml) glass

Jones Sugar-Free Black Cherry Soda is another great tasting zero-carb / zero-calorie soda. The black cherry flavor is slightly sweet and does a good job of leaving this product with only a minimal sweetener aftertaste. Based on the taste, we'd definitely rank this product among the upper tier of diet products. Overall, a good addition to the Jones Sugar-Free line.

Sugar Free Ginger Ale

Category: Diet; Packaging: 12 fl oz (355ml) glass

There's no doubt about it -- Jones Sugar Free Ginger Ale deserves a five star rating. This product will easily fool the palate of most into thinking that this is a full carb/calorie product. Perhaps it's the nice bite of ginger in this product that helps mask the lack of sugar. Regardless of what the reason is, this is a product that can definitely be enjoyed by a non-diet soda drinker. It's a truly awesome product that should hopefully quiet any Jones naysayers.

Sugar Free Root Beer

Category: Diet; Packaging: 12 fl oz (355ml) glass

The Jones Sugar-Free never ceases to amaze. We really liked the black cherry and ginger ale flavors, but honestly were a big skeptical of what a sugar-free Jones Root Beer would taste like. Fortunately, we were pleasantly surprised by this product. It features a mildly sweet flavor that has a subtle wintergreen-like flavor to it and a generally crisp finish. The sucralose aftertaste is very minimal and overall it doesn't take away from the root beer flavor. Overall, this is perhaps the best sugar-free root beer we've tasted to date.
